HALF-DAY LAND TOURS

PHRAYA NAKORN CAVE

The magnificent gold and green Kukha Karuhas pavilion, the smallest temple in Thailand, is a religious landmark in the Phraya Nakhon Cave, one of Thailand's most beautiful and most photographed caves. The giant limestone cave is a popular tourist attraction with trees reaching for its rooftop openings. However, its remote location makes it challenging to get to and limits the number of visitors who can catch a glimpse of this stunning sight. The cave's tranquil atmosphere consists of two chambers, each with a rooftop opening that allows the sun to shine through. The in-flowing sunlight contrasts with the cave's darkness to create a mystical sensation. A forest growing within the cave makes it a bright and colourful natural attraction.

Price: THB 2,600++ per adult | THB 1,300++ per child

Includes: Hotel return transfer, long-tail boat, entrance fee, soft drinks, light snacks

What to bring: sunscreen, suitable shoes for trekking, mosquito repellent, camera (waterproof case/bag recommended)
